Dear Sylvia:

As promised, I am writing to you now to let you know where we stand with regard to the additions to our staff. Unfortunately, the news is not what you would like to hear.

We have decided not to proceed any further with the idea of putting you on the staff of the Development and Public Affairs Office. Please do not take this decision as a reflection in any way of your professional abilities -- on the contrary, you come highly recommended and your writing samples speak eloquently for themselves. It is simply that your talent is not the one that we feel we should add at this time.

I do hope another opportunity will open at The Rockefeller University for you because I would welcome the chance to work with you. In the meantime, I wish you every success and hope that you will keep in touch with us.

Sincerely yours,

Fred G. Lehmann
